READ THIS FIRST: Application Instructions

Ability Martial Arts Association (AMAA) supports all genuine qualified Martial Arts Coaches, Kick boxing, “Qualified” except Professional Boxing, Any Ring Fighting and Wrestling (Sport); see web. We offer recognised and valued support pertaining to Pro Insurance and Qualifications for UK Martial Arts, plus invaluable advice and information services plus the exceptional UKi Qualifications and more.

Step by Step Guide:

(1) AMAA Membership Application Form. Without it you will not be able to receive or indeed validate any insurance. Renew every year.

Fill in your name in BLOCK LETTERS in the box, then your Club Name, address, etcetera. When you have completed the form to the best of your ability, you then need to make out a cheque for Membership to 'AMAA'.

The next form to fill in is:

(2) Martial Arts Insurance Proposal. Read the instructions carefully!

You only need to print off the pages with “info boxes” on as you will otherwise waste ink!

Write in your name, address and telephone. You do not have to put in an email unless you wish to get PDF documents that you have to print off yourself (see “Important Information” below).

Still The Best!

Want to Pay by PayPal? Follow the link from our pages and use your PayPal account.

Fill in the one form, make *one payment and that's you sorted for the next year!

(*This does not include payments for individual student membership & insurance!)

Cheques may be made out in your name, your school's account name or Postal Order, as long as you send the one check and meet the conditions, you will be covered.

The next form you might need will be: Student Insurances. E-mail us for a Template if you don't have one. These may be added to the same Membership cheque.

Please turn to the next page for important Check List! We strongly advise you to read everything very carefully as membership and ensuing Insurance is a legally binding contract.

READ CAREFULLY:

Qualifications (e.g. Black Belt or above):

ESSENTIAL; Insurance companies require proof for better protection of the public at large. As a responsible instructor you'd agree, it is better protection for the Martial Arts and Fitness world generally; having a genuine qualification not only protects the public, but also the Coach or Instructor.

We DO NOT COVER 'MMA', unless...

MMA: No such thing as a "stand alone". Mixed Martial Arts is exactly what it says, so anyone who is qualified in, say, Karate, Jujitsu and Taekwondo is automatically a MMA practitioner, so can add 'MMA' onto the end of his/her Qualifications. See our website for styles covered!

Health and Safety:

Much H&S is common sense; e.g. make sure there are no wet patches on the floor, all loose items removed from floor, no live wires or plug sockets that little fingers can be put into and no sharp corners on objects that someone can fall against or be thrown onto. Furthermore, make sure everyone is on Public Liability insurance.

First Aid:

Not essential for applications but any instructor worth his or her salt will be sensible enough to do regular First Aid courses or have a qualified person in Attendance.

DBS Checks. There are now many companies or organisations on-line offering this service. Search for "DBS Checks" or "DBS Checks (my town)" for best results. You may also find that some local Councils offer this service and may be preferable. Volunteers, non-profit makers, are cheaper to attain than those for self-employed. See our 'News' page.

Fill in the following form and send it in to us with your payment by 1st Class Post.

Use the correct size envelopes & Stamps; e.g.

- up to A5 with normal 1st class stamp,
- or A5 with "1st Class LARGE" stamp.

We will charge you and extra £5 for having to go to a far away Royal Mail sorting depot to pick up underpaid items!

Terms and Conditions.

Ability Martial Arts Association (hereafter referred to as "AMAA" is insured under Hiscox Insurance Company Limited as a recognised Martial arts Governing Body and provider for its members of Public Liability Insurance (hereafter referred to as "the policy": example wording opposite.

The AMAA on application for cover from you the "individual coach" on receipt of payment will cover you from the date of application or a chosen date thereafter under the agreed Lloyds insurance policy up to a limit of £10,000,000 (see "AMAA Policy" for details.) AMAA is my chosen "governing body" and as a member I agree to being a careful and cognisant Coach showing a caring attitude and respect for my fellow members, my students and the general public. It is my responsibility to look after my school, club meeting or training areas when we are present, safeguard against injury or abuse and generally maintain as high standards as is possible. In this respect I acknowledge that AMAA is not responsible for my behaviour but that they may expect from me a code of ethics befitting of any high quality Martial arts Instructor with excellent values and moral fortitude. The AMAA cannot and will not be held responsible for reckless behaviour, assault physical, mental or sexual abuse, libel or slander, defective goods knowingly sold or any other problems caused by an insured member of the "association" known as AMAA. The AMAA reserves the right to discontinue membership of anyone found to be in breach of these terms and conditions should any breach appear to be a flagrant disregard for either AMAA, the public or members of the individual's own school or club.

The Insurance Brokers have informed AMAA that "the policy" will cover items as stated and that cover is valid in UK Countries (which Northern Ireland, Isle of Wight, Jersey Isles, Isle of Man) and that cover includes the use of training weapons made of plastic, wood or alloy with "contact" included, however this "contact" should be supervised at all times by a competent Instructor with First Aid knowledge who will be held responsible for all weapons training in their own school or club. Live weapons are excluded except for demonstration and coaches should check all weapons before use to make sure of none falling apart, breaking and causing damage to members or bystanders and appropriate safety measure must always be taken by the individual instructor member of AMAA. The AMAA's terms and conditions also specify that all coaches, seniors students or general students who work with children or vulnerable adults must be DBS checked and that precautions are taken to avoid injury or abuse of children and vulnerable adults in all classes. First Aid is not a forcible requirement but it is encouraged within and throughout the association and its members as it may save lives or prevent worsening of injuries in the event of accidents. Signing the membership application form or becoming an insured member on-line by any electronic means is accepting these terms and conditions and agreeing to abide by all terms and conditions that AMAA imposes before or after signing; terms and conditions may be changed without prior notice, however we endeavour to keep our members posted of change. Members are not obliged to take on any compulsory courses or unwanted training or events.

The Insurers for AMAA are Lloyds Insurance Company Limited (UK).
